2. Services. The Consultant hereby agrees to provide the services to Client described in Statement of Work 1, attached hereto as Exhibit A, as well as other consulting services as the parties may agree from time to time under one or more additional statements of work that reference this Agreement (each, a "SOW" and such services, the "Services"). Except as otherwise provided herein, if any of the terms or conditions of this Agreement conflict with any of the terms or conditions of any SOW the terms or conditions of such SOW will control solely with respect to the services covered under such SOW.

4. Compensation.

4.1. Fees. In consideration for the Services provided by the Consultant to the Client, the Client shall pay the Consultant the fees set as described in Statement of Work 1 and any additional SOWs. 7. No Solicitation. During the term of this Agreement, and for a period of 1 year after expiration or termination of this Agreement, the parties agree not to solicit, recruit, engage or otherwise employ or retain any employee of the other Party, whether or not said person has been assigned to perform tasks under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither party will be restricted from making any general solicitation for employment that is not specifically directed at such employees; and provided further that neither party will be restricted from hiring any such employee who responds to any such general solicitation.

Doc ID: 5a6427f82921634b55f22e5763c1176a9071751a

4.4. Client will provide production-ready workbook, CBE, cost sheets, and benefit guide templates,, and Prism import templates required for implementation.
4.5. Client will provide timely access to PrismHR and ClientSpace APIs, including credentials, documentation, and sandbox environments.
4.6. Data not maintained in PrismHR will be sourced from the workbook, and Taylor will not function as a master data warehouse.
4.7. The admin console provides operational visibility and light reporting only, not advanced BI or custom analytics.
4.8. Prism import files generated by Taylor remain subject to Client review and approval prior to submission.
4.9. OMQ data is manually entered by Questco staff; automated carrier proposal or PDF parsing is not included.
4.10. Only functionality explicitly described in this SOW is included, and future enhancements are excluded unless separately agreed. Consultant and Client will work together throughout the project to discuss scope trade-offs, as needed.
4.11. Client will provide timely feedback, approvals, rate book data, and test data necessary to meet the agreed timeline.

5. Technical Assumptions

5.1. No deliverable shall be considered complete until its associated Azure technical components, infrastructure dependencies, and operational ownership are documented and approved.
5.2. Anticipated technical architecture will leverage Azure resources according to 12-factor app design practices, including:
5.2.1. Environment parity across dev, test, and production, leveraging slots for review applications (e.g., Azure Container Instances or Azure Web App services with same configuration)
5.2.2. Secret management via environment variables or managed secret stores (e.g., Azure Key Vault accessed with Azure Managed Identities / Entra ID)
5.2.3. Separated services, e.g., background workers (Azure Service WebJobs with Azure Queue Storage or Service Bus, database (Azure Database for PostgreSQL), redis (Azure Cache), document storage (Azure Storage Account)
5.2.4. Monitoring and logging integrated into the hosting environment (e.g., Azure Monitor including App Insights and Log Analytics)
5.2.5. App Security enforcement: Option to add Private Endpoints (with vNet/subnets) to isolate access to database, storage, and key vault beyond initial built-in network access controls (firewalls/IP restrictions) offered with Azure services.
5.3. External API development practices will include reviewing documentation, defining and documenting data mapping and contracts between systems, and incorporating comprehensive validation and error handling.
5.4. Code review is mandatory for each change introduced to the codebase. This will be a combination of peer and automated review.
5.5. Automated tests are mandatory, with the expectation to meet agreed-upon risk-based coverage thresholds. This will include both unit and integration tests.
5.6. CI/CD tools (e.g., github actions or Azure Dev Ops) will be used for linting, vulnerability scanning, review app / slot deployments
